

Who is Scott Braddock?

I enjoy helping people plan for retirement so that they can worry less about their money. I accomplish this goal by using a written GamePlan that I developed called the Retirement Compass®. It's a five-step decision making process that focuses on reducing costs such as fees, taxes, insurance premiums and lost interest, versus chasing returns and taking on more risk in the stock market.

Scott's Extensive Background Includes the Following:

- 2001 Entered into the Financial and Insurance industry.
- Investment Advisor Representative, Fiduciary Advisory Firm- Almega
- National Social Security Advisor®
- Federal Retirement Consultant®.
- Attended Liberty University- Degrees in Business and Marketing.
- Over 20 years in the field of Personal Finance and Economics.
- Extensive study, research and application of Economic principles.
- A+ Rating by the Better Business Bureau.
- Recognized speaker on Income & Retirement Planning
- Has appeared on: WFMY, Spectrum NewsNC and WRAL.
- Featured in US News and World Report, Yahoo News, and Yahoo Finance.

